Letter of recommendation

To whom it may concern

This letter is to recommend Virocast company to businesses looking for high pressure die-casting consulting and services.

Prodmax was established in 1994. In the first years of Prodmax, its core business was manufacturing of aftermarket automotive accessories. In 2003, Prodmax expanded its business range to include construction products, like flexible spiral aluminium pipes, and soon became one of the largest manufacturers in this product sector in Poland and Central Europe. Prodmax is continuously expanding its range of innovative chimney and ventilation systems for single-family housing and industrial buildings. Prodmax complies with stringent requirements of European standards, including environmental protection regulations.

We invited tenders from several companies, all of whom had good track records. However, Virocast was head and shoulders above the competition. Whichever way we did our evaluations they always seemed to have the edge. They spend the time to really understand what we needed, but they carrying approach fitted well with our expectations and changing priorities. This firm blended perfectly into our technologies and price requirements, providing us with the processes required to deliver against targets under strict time constraints.

During our time working together, we developed a new better product design. We also made important changes to the new die-casting mould to achieve an improved vented product.

Throughout five years, each part of every project was delivered on time. This has had a strong, measurable and positive impact on the bottom line of the business.

I would not hesitate to endorse Virocast company. If you are looking for high quality die casting services, or advice within the manufacturing process. I definitely recommend Virocast.
